Cricket™ Laptop Stand Awarded 2008 ADEX Gold

Gold Award for Design Excellence presented by Design Journal

Easton, PA—Apr. 18, 2008—Design Journal has presented a Gold ADEX award to Innovative Office Products, Inc. (www.lcdarms.com), for the Cricket™ Laptop Stand. This Award for Design Excellence recognizes products of superior design and quality.

The Cricket™ Laptop Stand is unique – it is the first completely portable, height-adjustable laptop stand. Cricket™ allows users to create the comfort and ergonomics of a desktop PC system anyplace that they wish to work. It does this by boosting the screen to a user-adjustable natural viewing height.

"We are honored to be recognized by Design Journal for our work on Cricket™," said Bud Oddsen, president of Innovative Office Products. "We believe that this product is a great mix of design quality and utility which is indicative of our approach to product development."

About Design Journal

Design Journal is an international trade publication for interior designers, architects and facility managers. Design Journal sponsors the ADEX competition annually.
